DUNHILL AXIS RUNNER

A new addition to dunhill's signature runner offering, the dunhill Axis Runner is inspired by lightweight 1970s running shoes.

With the name Axis referencing freedom of movement, this new luxury runner from dunhill features elevated details like a perforated calfskin lining and quilted calfskin leather heel counters. Available in black, sand and grey technical nylon, a micro midsole and full rubber outsole feature a natural leather rand at the heel, a nod to classic shoemaking.

Available in store and online now, the dunhill Axis Runner is £385.

NEW SNEAKERS COURT PRO & ELITE

Inspired by 1980s tennis shoes, the dunhill Court trainers are available in two distinct styles: Pro and Elite.

A nod to 1980s Casual style culture, Pro features technical and breathable mesh whilst Elite is crafted in calfskin leather, with calf cashmere suede details. Both trainers have a quilted calfskin leather heel counter and a full rubber, bicolour signature sole design, referencing the automotive codes of the House.

Each style is available in two colourways: Pro in grey and red and Elite in black and blue.

Available in store and online now, the dunhill Court Pro and Elite trainers are £385.
